Edgewood Village

The Village is starting off very well. We gained another person for FFLC pickups! Each volunteer can now go about once a month, which makes it a very manageable commitment. There are about 25 families signed up and we expect more as the years goes on. Our old, old (old) frig did break down and we currently have no way to keep items cool, but The Village has available some promising grant opportunities and perhaps some other options to explore. Also, we will be working with Michelle and the movie night event to ask for some specific food items that are in need.

Snack Pack program

We are currently serving 13 children and their siblings every weekend. I have complete snack packs to last through the end of October. We are hoping to do a food drive as a suggested donation to the movie night, Friday.

Needed single-serve food items are:

- juice boxes
- non-refrigerated milks
- cups of fruit
- granola bars
- beefaroni or spaghettios
- packets of instant oatmeal
- cereal bars
- pudding cups
- fruit snacks or strips

If you could also ask PTA members to contribute if possible, I'll have a tub out front of the office, with signage beginning Wednesday morning. Basically, we need about 150 of each of the above items to completely fill packs.

The week of October 24-26 I will be having a snack pack stuffing party. Those interested can email me at gayle.lb.sawyer@gmail.com to participate. Also, we need to find someone to take over the snack pack program in January, when I return to my job. Any ideas you have on a suitable candidate are appreciated.

OBOB

OBOB is off to a great start with lots of excited kids. Approximately 80 3rd, 4th and 5th graders came to check out what OBOB was at our first meeting in September. Our second meeting is tomorrow and we are hoping that our numbers will settle out around 60 kids. To put this in perspective, look around and imagine 60 to 80 kids in this library trying to sit still and focus after school. :) OBOB team formation will happen in November. And our battle week competition is in February.
